Time Off	Time Off Provisions - Overview http://postdocs.mit.edu/postdoc-time-benefits	See information below for each category. Any leave, whether parental leave, maternity leave, or vacation time, must be discussed with the supervisor and approved prior to taking leave.	MIT generally expects that postdoctoral fellows will receive the same holidays, vacation, and sick time as postdoctoral associates. Fellowship terms must be taken into consideration. Some fellowships specify time off and other leave provisions, whereas others do not. Postdoctoral fellows should speak with their key administrative contact for postdocs for information and guidance on their individual situation. Any leave, whether parental leave, maternity leave, or vacation time, must be discussed with the supervisor and approved prior to taking leave, and may also require notification to the funding sponsor.

Time Off	Vacation	15 days accrued in first year (for full time postdocs on 12-month appointment) and 20 days subsequent years Policies and Procedures § 5.3.2	See above
	12 Institute Holidays http://hr.mit.edu/holidays	Yes	Yes
	Sick Leave	Reasonable number of justifiable absences paid in full (100% of regular pay). In extreme cases may be paid up to but not exceeding 6 months. Medical documentation may be required. Policies &amp; Procedures §7.5.4	See above
	Maternity Leave (birth mothers) https://postdocs.mit.edu/postdoc-time-benefits	Yes. For benefits-eligible birth mothers, 8 weeks following birth of a child, paid at 100% of regular pay. For detailed guidance, see Human Resource's New Parent Postdocs page. May also be eligible for paid parental leave; see below.	See above and FAQs for New Parent Postdocs
	Paid Parental Leave https://postdocs.mit.edu/postdoc-time-benefits and Policies and Procedures Sec. 7.5.6	Yes. Policies &amp; Procedures §7.5.6 and MIT Paid Leave for New Parents Effective July 1, 2018, up to 20 days of paid parental leave for eligible new parents within 6 months after the birth, adoption, or placement of a child. See	See above and FAQs for New Parent Postdocs

Time Off		details . Must be working at least 50% time and have completed at least one year continuously appointed as a postdoctoral scholar (fellow and/or associate).
	Other Family Leave Provisions	May be able to take up to 12 weeks of leave under federal Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) for one's own serious health condition; care for a child; parent or spouse with a serious health condition; and reasons relating to a family member's military service. FMLA leave is unpaid; but may use sick time or other paid leave while on FMLA. See details and info. Employees who are parents may be eligible for unpaid leave under the Massachusetts Parental Leave Act (MLA) as well as under the federal FMLA. The overlapping requirements of MIT's parental leaves and of state and federal leaves are explained here.	FMLA and MLA provisions described on left are not available, but postdoctoral fellows should speak with their key administrative contact for postdocs for information and guidance on their individual situation.
	Other Leaves	Additional paid time off may be granted for religious observances, bereavement, or other. See details .	Same approach for fellows as associates, if fellowship terms don't exclude. Postdocs should speak with the key administrative contact for postdocs .
H-1B Visa Eligibility	MIT Visa Sponsorship: H-1B http://web.mit.edu/scholars/administrators/sponsorshipolicy.html	Yes, if otherwise eligible (as assessed by the International Scholars Office)	No
